FEATURES

YOU'RE AT THE CENTER

ArcSoft offers a complete, self-contained photo suite that operates independently on DVD-recorder platforms. All customers have to do is plug in your device and they're ready to enjoy their photos on the best screen in the house. Your device becomes the all-in-one center of their digital world.

COOL EDITING TOOLS

With a few clicks of the remote, your customers can rotate, crop, and flip images without getting off the couch. A red-eye removal tool gets rid of those pesky red flashes that are all too common in photos.

ARCHIVING AND SHARING

By interacting with the most popular media, ArcSoft technologies offers complete photo management. Images can be retrieved via flash card or output to DVD. Photo slideshows can be created and saved as VCDs or DVDs.

BROAD, OPEN COMPATIBILITY

ArcSoft technologies are designed with a flexible architecture and open interfaces that allow them to interoperate with countless operating systems, applications, and accessory products. Users can connect their digital devices straight to your device and see their pictures instantly on their TVs.

PHOTO PRINTING

With a USB printer, users can output high quality photos. In all, your customers can view, share, store, and print their photos on the spot using only the remote control.

FUN AND EASY TO USE

With digital technology expanding daily, our technologies are designed with the everyday consumer in mind. User interfaces are fun and exciting, making it easy for anyone with a remote control to start their imaging experience right away.
